IRAQ: ENDLESS TERROR IN NINEVEH

Iraq's indigenous Assyrian and Chaldean Christians are being killed or else driven from their homeland. Five Christians were assassinated in Mosul, the capital of Nineveh Province, Northern Iraq, in the week 14-20 February. On Sunday 14 February Chaldean Rayan was killed by armed militants outside his own home. On Monday Fatukhi was killed outside his shop by drive-by shooters. On Tuesday militants shot two Assyrian Christian university students, killing Zia (21) and wounding Ramsin (22). On Wednesday militants kidnapped and then killed Assyrian Christian student Wissam (20). On Saturday police found the body of Syrian Orthodox Adnan (57) who had been kidnapped for ransom a week earlier. Please pray for our traumatised, threatened fellow-believers in Iraq.
